How you can save $$$ with your AISF Membership

With the combined leverage of the AISF Group, we have been able to negotiate reduced insurance premiums and the savings are passed onto our members. Can you afford not to be a member?

The insurance facility arranged for AISF members has been running successfully for over 2 years now. During this time Sears have further developed their technical knowledge and experience associated with the surface finishing industry.

This experience enables Sear Insurance Brokers to provide expert advice and guidance on the insurance requirements relating to your type of business.

Sear Insurance Brokers offers your business corporate level protection with access to the following:

Discounted premiums

We have been able to negotiate discounted insurance premiums compared with standard insurance rates available within the market.

100% Australian authorised insurers

We have arranged this facility with Australian insurers who are financially secure and are authorised by the appropriate governing authorities. Our insurance partners are extremely keen to continue their support for the local market.

Industrial Special Risks Product

Industrial Special Risks (ISR) is the broadest property product available within the market. The product provides accidental loss or damage cover and is far superior to a standard business pack policy usually offered. The ISR product includes various additional benefits such as coverage for Flood, Fidelity, Transit, Burglary, Money, Glass and many more automatically included!

Public & Products Liability Product

Public & Products Broadform Liability like ISR is the broadest liability product available within the market and is far superior to Liability coverage included under a standard business pack policy.

As an AISF member you are provided with a dedicated experienced person solely for service to the AISF group, guaranteed, quick, efficient and helpful service at all times.

You could save your business thousands of dollars by taking advantage of this corporate deal, and more importantly you will ensure the security and longevity of your business for the future.

To take advantage of this offer, contact Adam Mott at Sears & Associates Insurance Brokers, tell them that you are an AISF member and they will arrange an assessment.

“By making the change to the Sears package, CSA saved enough in one year to pay AISF subs for the next twenty years”
